Description of Customized Two Session Intensive

Session 1 & 2: Balancing Spirit, Mind, and Body

Evaluation: Examination of you, from a spirit, mind and body perspective.

A discussion with you about how you are feeling about your life. Using our medical and spiritual intuitive skills we have the ability to see quickly what is out of balance. Simply put, do you have balance in how you really feel versus how you say you feel. We can easily see the cellular memory stored in your body replaying a movie of what has happened to you in the past. The words that you use to express your feelings about people and events in your life affect the balance in your physical, spiritual and mental self. We will make adjustments in your electromagnetic fields while having this conversation. This process will allow you to quickly adjust your words to match your true feelings. Accepting your truth, without judgment and expectation of yourself and others, is where we begin.

Research: Comparison of our evaluation findings to advanced human anatomy computer programs.

These programs give you a detailed and close-up view of any physical problems on multiple systems and layers of the body. We determine if your imbalance is physical, emotional, spiritual, or mental. The anatomy program helps you visualize health and put your subconscious to work on balancing the body.

Session Agenda: Selection of team specialists, equipment, technology and spiritual energy techniques.

We choose and discuss energy techniques, balancing equipment, music, and a variety of team specialists to provide you with the most balancing benefits in your session.

Treatment: More comprehensive hands-on work begins in the Scalar Wave Chamber.

The session is conducted in our Scalar Wave Chamber with 8 computers, 4 scalar wave towers and an assortment of advanced technology. Scalar waves provide instant optimum electricity to your cells, purifies your blood, releases some unresolved cellular memory in the muscle tissue and bones and helps you feel all the senses more deeply. Each session is administered by 1- 3 trained professionals.

Conclusion: We discuss your progress spiritually, emotionally, mentally and physically.

After the session, we will re-evaluate you and ask you to explain how you are feeling. We will be listening to your words and watching for the imbalances in your spirit, mind and body. Imbalances have been created over your entire lifetime. Our goal is to help you remove enough layers of imbalance so that you can progress in accepting yourself and others with more love and joy. Cellular memory that emits a frequency of stored judgments and expectations prevents you from maintaining balanced electrical flow from your mind to your heart. Energy flow distortions show up in the electromagnetic system throughout your body and in your spiritual body or outer energy fields. Our goal is to teach you how to attain balance in your spirit, mind, and body and maintain that balance after you leave our center. Life with fewer judgments and expectations will allow you to free yourself from emotional trauma. Everyone has a story to tell. We teach you how to accept your truth, which is not right or wrong, good or bad, it just is! Freeing the electricity that was feeding the cellular memory of judgment and expectation and causing physical and emotional drains can now be used to make the healthy systems in your spirit, mind and body work more efficiently.

We will determine at this time what regular sensory exercises are needed to maintain and further develop your balancing skills. Innovative balancing equipment will be introduced to enhance your intuitive skill building where you lack mastery.

The results of your session will be added to our research, your identity will remain confidential. Your signature is your acceptance of our program, its terms and conditions.
